

Jacksonville, Florida | May 11-14, 2027

The Children & Nature Network's Nature Everywhere Conference is coming to Jacksonville. We invite you to help us showcase the incredible strides being made across Duval County.

What is the Nature Everywhere Conference?

The Nature Everywhere Conference is the world's largest gathering of experts advancing evidence-based programs and policies for connecting children to the health and well-being benefits of nature. Grounded in equity and backed by decades of research, the event mobilizes leaders, educators, activists, practitioners and parents working to help children thrive by increasing safe and equitable access to the natural world.

Since 2015, the conference has offered three days of professional development, including keynote speakers, breakout sessions and site visits. The conference builds momentum for work being done in host cities, showcasing the civic, business and community leaders doing the work. The 2027 conference will highlight the critical work being done in Jacksonville in the areas of mental health, community health and well-being, and nature connection.

Who attends?

The conference is attended by more than 650 cross-sector leaders working in healthcare and mental health; early childhood and K-12 education; youth development; environmental justice; climate resilience; family services; city, county and state government; outdoor recreation and conservation; nonprofits, philanthropy and more. These attendees come from across the country and represent, on average, 15 different countries, with a large percentage of attendees coming from the host city and surrounding region.

Help us celebrate Jacksonville

The Nature Everywhere Conference is a unique opportunity to highlight Jacksonville's progress in the areas of mental health, community health and well-being, and nature connection for children. As a supporter, you will engage with a global, multi-disciplinary audience of leaders, practitioners and decision makers looking to learn from Jacksonville's successes. With plenty of local and national earned media opportunities, your support demonstrates your organization's commitment to the city and region. It also helps us keep the conference affordable for Jacksonville nonprofits, students, elders, teachers and others who might find the cost prohibitive.

Join us as a sponsor, exhibitor or presenting partner!

Sponsors, exhibitors and partners make this premier event possible – and ensure that it is accessible, equitable, and deeply impactful for everyone involved. To learn more contact Keith Desrosiers at keith@childrenandnature.org.

NATURE EVERYWHERE CONFERENCE

Sponsorship Opportunities – Jacksonville 2027

The Children & Nature Network's Nature Everywhere Conference brings together a multidisciplinary audience of parents, caregivers, health professionals, educators, outdoor education and recreation leaders, family program and service providers, policy makers and thought leaders from around the world — all committed to the health and well-being of children and our planet.

Sponsorship support is critical to helping us:

Underwrite site visits and place-based learning experiences that connect participants directly to the communities and landscapes at the heart of this work.

Provide honoraria for community leaders and practitioners whose lived experience and expertise are essential to the conversation.

Fund registration scholarships to support the participation of young people and community leaders — especially those representing communities that have been historically excluded or underrepresented.

Contribute to local environmental and community initiatives through carbon offset and nonprofit giving efforts connected to the event.

Offset core convening costs so cost is not a barrier to participation and more people can attend, learn, and collaborate.

Advance the Children & Nature Network's mission to create equitable access to nature everywhere children live, learn, and play — so that children and the natural world can thrive.
